A GREAT CESSION.

The Herald's dispatch from Washington yesterday announced that the President had approved the agreements entered into with the several bands of Chippewa Indians by the Chippewa commission, ceding about 4,000,000 acres in this state to the government. The importance of this session will be generally recognized as its location and character became fully known. One district alone, the Red Lake reservation, lying south of the Lake of the Woods, contains more acres than the whole state of Connecticut, all of which will soon be thrown open for sale and settlement.

The actual extent of the land comprised in the several reservations is 4,741,000 acres, of which about 2,000,000 acres were really ceded, the balance being reserved for allotments under the severalty act. The chief reservations ceded are the Red Lake, Mille Lacs and Fond du Lac, and the reservations about Leech Lake. The White Earth Indians ceded four townships, retaining the balance out of which such Indians as are now there, and such as may remove there may take allotments. After the allotments in the Red Lake and White Earth reservations shall have been taken, the secretary of the interior is authorized to purchase what may remain. The Leech Lake, Cass Lake and Lake Winnepigoshish bands cede all their reservations but such Indians as see fit to remain will receive allotments before the balance of the land is disposed of, but all such allotments must be made on other than pine lands which will be sold under the provisions of the act of 1889. The White Oak Point, Mille Lacs, Grand Portage and Bois Fort and Fond du Lac reservations were parted with under the same conditions.

The Indians now within the state number only about 8300, and after they are fully provided for under the provisions of this session, it is apparent that immense tracts of land will be open for clearing, settlement and improvement, and land too of the most valuable character. The reservations contain the largest pine forests in this country on this side of the Rocky mountains, which will come into market as soon as they can be reached by transportation lines. The Duluth & Winnipeg road is practically pointing toward the center of each, and as it progresses the extraordinary importance and benefit of this road to Duluth will become every day more manifest. Not only is it certain to make the head of the lakes the great lumber mart of the Northwest, but it will also make Duluth the headquarters of supply for all the region on its line, so soon to swarm with stirring camps and productive workers.

One of the Chippewa commission recently here, and a Wisconsin man at that, Commissioner Whiting, has said that in his opinion the cession and opening of these reservations would in a few years add 50,000 people to the population of Duluth, and time may well show that this estimate was not extravagant. Certainly no point in the country has so much to rejoice over in this magnificent cession as the head of the lakes, and it will soon stretch out its strong arm of the Duluth & Winnipeg to pull in the treasures within its grasp in this state, besides laying hold of the great transcontinental current of trade that is beginning to course through British America. When this and other grand streams are full in sight, as soon they will be, in their flow to the head of the great lakes, there will be no need of calling public attention to this inevitably great trade center. The world will see it and Duluth can stop hanging out signs.

A good many people are still under the impression that the transatlantic steamers are running on regular courses following as closely as may be what have been known as lane routes over since Commander Maury worked out the idea of defined lanes across the ocean to lessen the dangers of collision. The impression that the steamer which carried him was going ahead on a prescribed route apart from the track of the vessels coming in an opposite direction has reassured many a timid passenger, and the chief steamship companies for a long time took special pains to confirm this assurance by the statement that their ships ran on regular lane routes in all seasons. But with the modern craze for racing across the ocean and record breaking, these old-time precautions have gone by the board and the easy-going passenger will now begin to lie awake again. The well-informed English correspondent of The New York Tribune, George W. Smalley, states that there is now only one line—the White Star—playing between Europe and America which still clings to the Maury routes, and that the fast vessels of other lines shape their courses with an idea solely of making the quickest time rather than of avoiding danger. It happens that the shortest distance from port to port does not lie within the lane routes, "and it is," Mr. Smalley says, "to save this difference of 150 miles, or some part of it, that the Countdowns have deliberately accepted the increased dangers of collision." The chief offenders, however, it appears, are the French and German lines, rather than the English, and Mr. Smalley remarks of the German ships particularly, that they seem to be "sent to sea with no other mission than to find and follow the shortest path, from point to point, which happens not in this case to be a straight line, but a great circle." "Day and night, all day and all night long, and every day of the year," Mr. Smalley says, "these huge vessels are rushing upon each other from East and West. In sunshine and through dense fog, with a fair wind and in the teeth of a cyclone that piles the seas on their decks, they go tearing along at a pace which sometimes makes the boldest helmsman breathe; and sometimes, if he happens to be on the deck or bridge, takes it out of him altogether. While they followed the lane routes these Atlantic monsters kept from sixty to 200 miles asunder. Today they may pass each other, and do pass each other, within the loss of a biscuit; and sometimes they do not pass each other." That is emphatically put, but it does not make the crash, the shrieks, the struggle and the sinking any pleasant to those on board the rescuers.

If Charles A. Pillsbury is correctly reported in a special telegram published last night, he is a man of some mental caliber than his business success would indicate or that the Northwest gives him credit for. If Mr. Pillsbury has all dealings in futures stopped by law, how will he get credit for his mill? He must buy for future delivery, and it is as legitimate an operation in wheat as it is in dry goods or groceries. There is an element of the speculation in every business enterprise; would there could be no business. Mr. Pillsbury's statement that "all sales should be for actual delivery" is undoubtedly very correct, but he surely cannot mean that delivery must be immediate. Legitimate speculation does not tend to low prices. On the contrary it acts as a governor to an engine and keeps the pressure toward low or high prices equalized somewhat. Mr. Pillsbury's own bull shouts of last year, over $10 flour and $2 wheat, had more to do with the low prices than any other cause.

The house naval committee has nearly completed the naval appropriation bill, but the committee has decided to embody in the appropriation bill the construction of the new ships. A member of the committee is authority for the statement that the committee was not favorable to the construction of the proposed eight battle ships, but would probably recommend three or four of that class and a number of cruisers. The committee is disposed to adopt the policy of the secretary of the navy to a certain extent, but recognizes the fact that there is considerable opposition to the construction of so many heavy battle ships, and, as we think, is acting discreetly in varying the character of our floating defenses more widely.

Mr. Homer Bink, at present acting secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, who recently arrived from Rochester, New York, said last night: "I am very much pleased with Duluth. I think it a beautiful town. But what surprises me the most is the size and character of the buildings here. There are no buildings in Duluth which Rochester, with its 12,500 inhabitants, can hold a candle to. For instance, your Masonic temple and Temple opera house are buildings which I have never seen. Nothing in Rochester to compare with them. We have only one really fine building here, the new block, which is a history of architecture, but from an architectural point of view does not compare for an instant with the Masonic temple here."

"And then the Spaulding, the Palladio, the Chamber of Commerce and the First National bank. Duluth is destined beyond a doubt to be the most important city in the northwest. I like this city better than either St. Paul or Minneapolis. I came up here at the invitation of the Young Men's Christian association, and I am sure that Mr. Villard is right in his opinion that the city has so much to rejoice over in this magnificent cession as the head of the lakes, and it will soon stretch out its strong arm of the Duluth & Winnipeg to pull in the treasures within its grasp in this state, besides laying hold of the great transcontinental current of trade that is beginning to course through British America. When this and other grand streams are full in sight, as soon they will be, in their flow to the head of the great lakes, there will be no need of calling public attention to this inevitably great trade center. The world will see it and Duluth can stop hanging out signs."

Mr. Kennan is making good use of money out of his lectures. I chatted with an old friend today, who said: "Kennan's suit of old-fashioned iron chain, which he brought with him from St. Louis, was already worth $100,000, and they are adding to his bank account every night. In the course of every lecture on cable life he appears upon the stage in this prison garb and he finds it a successful appearance." Maj. Pond, the lecture manager, says Kennan is his best card. Said he: "We have booked more than $30,000 worth of contracts for him this season and he is the best paying lecturer in the field. One of his secrets of success lies in the fact that he prepared himself well before going on the stage, and another is the splendid advertisement which The Century has given him."

"As I understand it," said an Iron land man last night, "the railroad to the Mesabi and Vermilion, that The Herald first sold out of the other day, is to be built by a company whose individual iron-ore land interests in this section are pooled. I was told that an appraiser went over the properties and gave each one a fixed rate, at which figures they were put into the pool and the landowner credited with so much stock. As near as I can see, the scheme is a sort of combination, a good deal like the Iron Range and Minnesota Iron company, only one company in this instance operates both branches of business. Considerable money has been subscribed to the project, much of it coming from the two cities. I doubt much, from the very nature of the company, whether the road will be built to Winnipeg, for I am much more inclined to believe that the line will only tap the mineral country in northern Minnesota."

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Captain of Police McLaughlin: Yes, we had about sixteen who asked for the blank application for a position on the police force yesterday. Some of them hospital or for naturalization papers would have suited their case better. A manufacturing hustler: We never gave the rumor of the removal of the Grant locomotive works to Duluth the dignity of a second thought at any time after it was sprung, long ago. Why they settled on and paid for their location in Chicago at least two months ago, and my talk about telegrams from Mr. Grant that "had known forty-eight hours before" he did of the advantages of Duluth he would have investigated. But there's other locomotive builders in the United States than the Grant company.

Secretary Phelps: It was nearly a year ago when the Grant locomotive people talked of moving. We discussed the question in the chamber and I wrote Mr. Grant, president of the company. He answered my letter, and we had a little correspondence, but the Chicago influence and Mr. Jeffries who resigned from the management of the Illinois Central to go into the works, were too much for what we could do.

A. S. Chase: The minds of the aldermen should be disengaged of the idea that the Railway company is acting in an arbitrary manner, on attempting to dictate terms, as might be inferred from the utterances of some of the newspapers.

Dr. Dunn: We want to get all Methodists out this evening to form a Methodist society. Dr. Farnes will be present and we shall consider the interests of our denomination in and about Duluth.

A politician: It is as good as settled that Lawyer W. C. White is to be the next city attorney, and that S. C. McQuade, despite his late refusal to take it, is to be the chief of police. Gillon has a pull, but I don't believe he'll get it. Capt. John Monaghan: I tell you those cakes of ice are handsome. Wouldn't an ice palace made of that clear stuff be a beauty?

(Atlanta Constitution.) The sun faded out of the purple West, the sleepy songsters are gone to rest, the dew is on the grass, and the night is here—love—good-bye!

The shadows lengthen down the lane, the stars are out, and the night is here—love—good-bye!

The cold stars twinkle in your blue sky, so clear and silent, so vast and high, the moon's cloud chariot rolls by, and the night is here—love—good-bye!

Well down chill in the pallid morn, no rosy dunes the East adorns, so clear is my heart when thy smile is gone, Sweetheart—farewell!

CONDENSED NOTES.

Vegetable flannel is a textile material now being largely manufactured in Germany out of pine leaves. The flannel is spun-knitted and woven into clothing of various kinds.

In northern Pennsylvania a curious expedient has been resorted to for the purpose of getting the logs out of the woods. Hundreds of barrels of crude oil have been sent into the camps, and this oil poured over the "skids" to take the place of snow. Some of the slides are twenty miles long, starting on the summit of a mountain and in some instances shooting up one hill and down another in a series of inclines. The momentum the logs gather with distance sends them along with a furious rate of speed, and the crude oil has been found not to wear off for nearly a week.

The Czar of Russia is now the largest landholder in the world. Three weeks ago he purchased one single tract larger than the state of Texas. He has also bought in the lands of the Hohenlohe family, which they had inherited, but were not allowed to occupy, in Russia.

It is reported that the Sultan has prohibited the sale of slaves within his dominions. This he has done to blow to the slavers of the African East up his mind to abolish the sale of the white Cossack slaves.

The Plan of Sending Out an Observer From This Country.

LOCK YOUR SWITCHES.

Herald man was standing at a clerk's show case last night examining the jewelry. He was looking at a watch when all of a sudden the electric lights went out and the store was left in darkness. The clerk, who had a number of cable rings on the glass top of the showcase, in a moment the lights were restored and the clerk was under the impression of observation from Jewelers' Guild that opened up a suggestive conversation.

"Do you see that switch?" said Spaldwell, I've often thought how easy it is to get into a couple of confederates to the store and make a few things disappear. I wonder if you have any of the like of the other, such as diamonds and pearls, and if you have any of the switch, throw the store into darkness and then you can get away with their booty. That's the way to escape."

The clerk, who had been told that the switch is placed no far out of the store, and that it is not possible to get it put there, but instead of the storekeepers should not fail to

There has been a very lively call for land in town, and in adjoining country, the land office today, since the land's announcement of rich discovery from there. But little land is known north of the vein. W. H. Little states that he will go to work on a diamond drill on GO-18 as soon as break up comes.

Articles of incorporation of the Minnesota Mining company have been forwarded to St. Paul for the proper recording, and have been filed here with the register of deeds. The capital stock is stated to be $500,000, with a limit of indebtedness fixed at $1,000,000. The first board of directors is composed of the following well-known names. Besides these names the company is composed of several men whose names can not appear, but who are heavy stockholders and who are quoted among the millionaires of the country outside of Minnesota: C. A. Severance and C. B. Kellogg of St. Paul, H. B. Moore and W. T. Bailey of Duluth, and W. B. Parsons of Dodge Center. The general offices and headquarters will be maintained in Duluth.

The central section of land leased by the company is the famous section 16-62-14 and a total of 900 acres comprises the lease holding. Of section 16 alone, several well known iron experts have declared it to be the richest in Bessemer ore in the state, one going so far as to remark that "there is enough Bessemer ore in that section to warrant the building of a railroad from there to Duluth for its ore alone."

Notes and minutes of the property have been in possession of the stockholders for some time and as an indication of their value the first six applications recorded under the Baden mining lease law were for the same property, leased by the Minnesota Mining company.

The state general law on the subject of the leasing of mineral lands was drafted originally by State Auditor W. W. Braden and an example of its wise provisions as a wealth producer may be gleaned from the fact that while the Minnesota Iron company pays about $200 into the state treasury on a tonnage produced royalty of two cents a ton; in lieu of all taxes the new company will have to pay on its estimated output for 1890 the sum of $75,000—the company's estimated output being 300,000 tons for this year.

The Duluth & Iron Range railroad already runs through a portion of the leaseholdings, and additional tracks will be laid to reach the property as soon as the snow clears away. It requires but three-quarters of a mile of spur track to reach the famous section 16. The work of developing the property will commence in about a month, and while The Herald earnestly thinks the estimate of 300,000 tons will be reached as this year's production, the new mine will make a most favorable showing. The Minnesota Iron company and the Minnesota Exploration company are carrying on mining operations on each side of the new mine, and the assays of the ore is of the same high standard as the choicest Bessemer product of the former company.

The property is about four miles from Lake Vermilion and six from Tower. It is also close to properties recently leased under the same law by Messrs. Morrill, Chase and others.

The advent of the new company to the list of shippers of iron, if anything like the estimated output is reached, will make the tonnage of the Iron Range road for this year in no wise less than the tonnage of the entire wheat crop of the state of Minnesota. The Iron Range may be a little road but its tonnage footings are large enough to sustain the trunk lines.

A QUEER VERDICT.

Further Inquiry Might Unravel the Mystery.

WICHITA, Kans., March 8.—A coroner's jury in the case of a dead infant, located on the Santa Fe train by Mrs. Dr. Burkett returned a verdict of "died from lack of nourishment." The coroner, however, was dissatisfied with the verdict, and personally swore out warrants against Mrs. Burkett and her son Otto and had them placed under bonds to appear March 21.

At the inquest Mrs. Burkett repeated substantially the same story she told Thursday night. She said the infant came from a midwife's establishment and was only 2 weeks old, though physicians testified that it was nearer 2 months. She did not know when it died, but she thought soon after leaving Newton. She left the body on the train with the feeling that she had done all she could and nothing remained but to bury it, and others could do it as well as she.

On arriving among her friends here she said nothing about the babe and thought she would hush the matter up. She did not know the name of the woman of whom she got the child, though Thursday night she confessed to having her card. Otto Burkett corroborated his mother's story. There is considerable mystery about the case and many rumors are afloat.

Gladstone Gains.

LONDON, March 8.—An election to fill a vacancy in the house of commons for the Stamford division of Lincolnshire, caused by the resignation of Mr. John Compton, lawyer and conservative, who has accepted a judgeship, was held yesterday. It resulted in the return of Mr. Cust, conservative, who received 4230 votes against 3594 cast for his opponent, Mr. Prestly, a Gladstonian. At the last preceding election Mr. Lawrence was returned without opposition.

Nitro Glycerine Explodes.

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 8.—J. P. Mitchell, aged 35, a nitro glycerine handler, was blown to pieces at 10 o'clock this morning at the oil well one mile from Franklin on the Louis Grinn house. He had hauled nitro glycerine out to the well and was preparing to put in a torpedo, when in some unknown manner it exploded. The boiler house was wrecked. A few pieces of the bones of his legs were found more than 100 yards away. He leaves a wife and two children.

A REFORM COMMITTEE.

Minneapolis Hotels Will Not Close Saloons Sunday.

Chicago, March 8.—The Inter-Ocean publishes the following letter: Lincoln, Neb., March 8.—The debate now in progress in reply to the speech from the throne is a good warrant for the publication of some facts of importance relevant to the Parrell commission inquiry. To make political capital was the object of the inquiry. To help to defeat that object is my desire in now writing. As legal evidence, my statement was not needed, but was long since available. The council endeavored to make a point because all books and checks of the Irish Land league were not produced. They could not be produced for the following reasons:

On Dec. 18, 1888, Mr. Patrick Egan left with me, in my office at the Hibernian Bank, Saxville street, Dublin, a large parcel of land league books and the following letter:

Jan. 18, 1888.—My dear Mr. Corcoran: Kindly take charge of the accompanying parcel. These are the books and papers which I do not care to give "Castle" people the satisfaction of inspecting. Yours sincerely, P. Egan.

Egan left Ireland, he came to my private office in the bank and said he wanted me to do him a favor. He gave me $300 in bank of England notes and asked me to procure for him gold, saying: "I do not want to should facilitate, aid, or abet him in escaping observation or help him to avoid attracting attention but pity for him and hatred for England made me agree. I sealed up the gold and gave it to Mr. Egan when he returned. He left that evening. I then directed the checks of the league which were in my keeping as manager of the bank, to be burned. It was my thought; I did not suggest from any human being. If it was a fault it was mine alone.

A TEXAS AMAZON.

She Cleans Out the Mayor's Office in John L. Style.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., March 8.—Margaret Lane, 30 years old, weighing 175 pounds, and a giantess in strength, yesterday cleaned out the mayor's office in true John L. Sullivan style. Several days ago her husband was fined by the municipal court at 10 o'clock yesterday. In her rage she went to the office and gave him a terrible tongue lashing. He ordered Policeman Roberts to arrest her and she knocked the policeman flat with a square shoulder blow in the nose. At this juncture City Attorney Hall entered and attempted to restrain the virago. She floored him. The mayor then took a hand in the game, and she likewise knocked him down. Then she waded in and actually thrashed all three of them and drove them from the court. In her rage she nearly strangled herself of clothing. The men are badly disfigured about the face. She held the court for three hours after which she drove them out, and only when she got ready did she leave.

Want Give Up Yet.

Boston, March 8.—There is considerable opposition in women's suffrage circles over the action of the lower house of the North Dakota legislature in rejecting the senate bill extending the right of suffrage to the gentler sex. The advice received here from the leaders of the movement is that the bill should be formally favorable, and the national organizers here had confidently expected that the new state would be added to the role of those that have emancipated woman. It is probable that an active campaign will at once be inaugurated in the state, only a change of twelve votes being necessary to make the bill law.

Will Remind Investigation.

LONDON, March 8.—All arrangements have been perfected for the mass meeting to be held in Hyde Park tomorrow, under the auspices of the socialistic radical, and workmen's organizations of London to protest against the treatment of the political prisoners in Siberia, and to demand that the recent reports of atrocious cruelties be investigated. Delegations will be present from numerous socialist sympathizing organizations recently formed in Birmingham, Newcastle, Liverpool, Bristol, and other cities.

That Heavily Eastern Weather.

BAXTON, Maine, March 8.—The Canadian Pacific express train is stuck in a huge snow drift near Lake Onaway. Engines, snow plows and a crew of men have been sent from Henderson to assist in extricating the train. There are many passengers aboard, and the train blockades the line between Henderson and Mattawamkeag, and all traffic is interrupted. There has been a very heavy fall of snow along the line from Greenville to Mattawamkeag, and there are drifts twenty-five feet deep.

Killed in a Passion.

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, March 8.—Yesterday afternoon two telegraph repairers of the Baltimore & Ohio, Southwestern, quarreled and one of them, "Big" Gibbons by name, struck Wesley Manfield on the side of the head with a large chisel. From the effects of the blow Manfield died at 1 o'clock this morning. He leaves a large family. Gibbons has been arrested.

Will Not Meddle With Telegraph.

Boston, March 8.—The report that leading Bell Telephone stockholders are behind the project to establish a new telegraph company to do government business, is emphatically denied at the office of the Bell company.

PENDLETON'S FUNERAL.

The Noted Ex-Minister is Buried in Cincinnati Today

With all Due Ceremony; the Highest Honors Given Him.

CINCINNATI, March 8.—The city is in mourning today for the sad return of one of her brightest citizens, Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, who five years ago went away to represent this government at Berlin. At that time he was given a complimentary dinner, famous for its good food and kindly compliments, the guests not dreaming that when next they looked upon his face it would be in death.

The funeral service this morning in Christ church was conducted by Dr. Gibson and Dr. Forest, the latter pastor of Calvary church, Clifton, where Mr. Pendleton worshipped. It was attended by the family and friends only. About one of the most imposing corteges ever seen in Cincinnati formed to escort the remains to Music hall. It was headed by a detachment of police, then the First regiment, U. S. G., then Gov. Campbell of Ohio and staff, then the bears, surrounded by pall bearers, and they in turn surrounded in a hollow square by members of the Old World war veterans. After the hearse, were carriages containing the family and friends, and following the remains to Music hall. It was headed by a detachment of police, then the First regiment, U. S. G., then Gov. Campbell of Ohio and staff, then the bears, surrounded by pall bearers, and they in turn surrounded in a hollow square by members of the Old World war veterans.

The passage of the cortege on the streets was marked by the respectful and sorrowful interest of great numbers of persons who knew the deceased in life. On arriving at Music hall, that building was found to be filled except spaces reserved for those in procession. As the casket was borne along the middle aisle to a catafalque, the audience arose and remained standing. Meanwhile, the great organ sounded a funeral march. The hall had been beautifully draped with national emblems, and the space about the casket was decorated with palms. The casket itself was beautifully covered with national colors, covered with callies and ribbons bound with purple. Conspicuous among the flowers was a wreath bearing German colors, placed there by C. Poller, German consul at Cincinnati, in obedience with instructions from Count Arco Valley, German minister at Washington.

HAMMOND AT SEATTLE.

To Remind in America White Salisbury is in Power.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 8.—There is one man in this city who is chafing under the castigation that Henry Labouchere administered to certain members of the English government a few days ago over the Cleveland street scandal. His name is Charles S. Hammond, and he figures pretty prominently as the possessor of the house that was frequented by the sons of the aristocracy who are now in involuntary exile. Hammond, who arrived here little more than a month ago, is now the owner of the Haymarket saloon, with a boon companion in the shape of his dog Roe, an animal that, as he proudly declares, was presented to him by his friend Earl Easton, the same man whom Lord Salisbury is charged with assisting to get out of the country, a charge that Labouchere insisted upon with so much vehemence in the house of commons last week as to result in his suspension from his rights and privileges of that august body. Hammond has been watching the proceedings in London since he skipped away with considerable interest, and gives it out cold and hot that he regards him very much as the very author of a scoundrel. "I shall have something to say in a little while," he says, "and that something may be rather sensational. I do not propose to bear other people's burdens, and some of those who are just now disclaiming all connection with the scandal of the 'long' may be told some unpleasant truths."

There is no doubt of the fact that Hammond, who is an Englishman, is anything but satisfied with his enforced sojourn in this country, or that, were immunity offered him, he would be ready and willing to return to London and give up what he knows. Nothing would suit Labouchere better, but so long as Lord Salisbury is in power Hammond will give London a wide berth.

Kunze Starts for Home.

NEW YORK, March 8.—John P. Kunze, the German suspect in the Cronin case, who was alleged to have driven Detective Coughlin to the Carlson cottage, and who, after being convicted and sentenced to three years' imprisonment, was granted a new trial, sailed today for Europe to visit his parents in Germany. He has made several thousand dollars by exhibiting himself in dime museums, and has therefore money enough to pay his expenses and those of Deputy-Sheriff Moffatt, who accompanies him in the interest of his bondsman.

Bluffs of Wealth for some One.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., March 8.—For miles along the river front at Chamberlain are immense bluffs of a fine quality of chalk rock, offering the greatest inducements for the manufacture of cement and other articles made from this material. The Minnesota State Hospital for the Insane at St. Peter.

Idiosyncrasies of Insanity Noticed Among the Inmates.

A Haven of Rest for Those who are Mentally Afflicted.

There is no state of existence more pitiable than that of the mentally weak. The one afflicted lives a living death and is a constant source of anxiety to all with whom he or she is brought in contact. The general term of insanity means all unhealthiness of mind. This consists, according to one opinion, in such disorganization of the nervous structure as to render the exercise of reason impossible. The legal term "insanity" represents only those deviations from that standard of mental soundness which is universally recognized, although difficult of definition, in which the person, the property or the civil rights may be interfered with. Insanity is more comprehensive, and includes all states of the feelings or passions, as well as the understanding, which are inconsistent with the original and ordinary character and habits of the individual, and with his relations to the family or community of which he is a member. The following arrangement may serve to explain why insanity is, as well as what it appears to be:

Affections of the Intellectual Powers.—Idioty.—The underdevelopment of one or more faculties. Imbecility.—The imperfect development of one or more faculties. Folly.—The development of one or more faculties. Dementia.—The deprivation of disease, or age, or otherwise, of one or more faculties. Delirium.—The temporary disturbance of the intellect, or of one or more faculties. Mania.—Delusion with excitement and irregular action of the intellect, or of one or more faculties. Melancholia.—Affecting the sentiments.—Melancholia.—Exaltation of pride.—Exaltation of cautiousness.—Exaltation of the sense of devotion.—Exaltation of the sense of duty.—Exaltation of the sense of justice, or of confidence, or of vanity.—Exaltation of the sense of honor, or of feeling, or of ambition.

Affections of the Proprietary Powers.—Incontinence.—Involuntary craving for stimulants. Involuntary craving for narcotics. Involuntary craving for food. Involuntary craving for sex. Involuntary craving for sleep. Involuntary craving for light. Involuntary craving for air. Involuntary craving for water. Involuntary craving for fire. Involuntary craving for earth. Involuntary craving for heaven. Involuntary craving for hell. Involuntary craving for everything.

This catalogue is not intended to be exhaustive, but simply an introductory to the narrow limits of a newspaper article which treats of a most admirable institution in our own state, established for the double purpose of curing or keeping of mind "mentally ailing."

The first hospital for the insane is located at St. Peter. The inhabitants, by common consent, have fallen into the habit of calling the pretty, winding and flanked road which leads to the hospital grounds, the "crazy highway," which may be suitable enough, but which is a little misleading. I was very much impressed last week with my visit to the hospital, made in the interest of Herald readers, and as I neared the grounds which I was traveling on foot, a sound of distant voice came to me filtered through the trees. I stopped to listen, for I thought it might be some one calling me, but it was a female voice and came from the direction of the great building in front of me. A few rods further brought me to a little rise of the road and I was enabled to catch the words of the song quite distinctly. They came from a third story barred window and were singularly agreeable, considering the surroundings.

They ran like this:

"No one to pity me—no one to blame, no one to love me—no one to hate me. A few rods further and I entered the great home of inmates who were industriously scrubbing away at a floor much cleaner than the usual run of floors in public buildings. I found the building beautifully clean from garret to basement, and in every department I found perfect order. The immense structure was crowded with inmates, some 1200 being on the books, necessitating the making up of fifty-six beds on the floor in order to accommodate the patients.

Dr. E. N. Flint of the medical staff, came to my assistance and offered to show me the entire list of public wards (eighteen in number) and several private wards. We made the tour of the male wing first, and one of the earliest inmates to come under my notice was an unknown to whom the attendants had given the name John, with the explanatory pseudonym of "The Missing Link."

The name was an appropriate one, the dwarfish, humped-up figure bearing but a little resemblance to the man. "John," said my guide, and the massive head raised slowly, a pair of dull, expressionless eyes looked out and fell upon the doctor. "Watch that face when he gets a glimpse of my watch," said Dr. Flint, and he pulled his handsome gold timepiece out and held it where the missing link could see it—the effect was wonderful; the figure before me sprang up like a tiger and tried to grasp it. After a moment he was allowed to touch the watch—he stroked it with his hand, tried in vain to open it as he had seen the doctor do. He surrendered it very reluctantly, and lapsed back into his old posture and looks.

In another ward I saw a tall man, evidently about 55 years old. The doctor introduced me and my new acquaintance began the following recital: "I am the most singular man you ever met; I have no insides—no heart, no liver, no lungs—I am simply an animated shell. I joined the Mormon church at Salt Lake two years ago and I had to leave all my insides there. I am placed here to superintend these cranks you see all around me. I don't have much trouble with them, but could you oblige me with a little chewing tobacco?" Just then another inmate who had been standing near by stepped up and said, "Don't pay any attention to that man; he's crazy."

I took his advice and proceeded with my guide into another ward, which proved to be one of the most interesting on the male side of the hospital. It was the imbecile ward, and here were grouped together about fifty of the strangest and saddest types of humanity it has been my lot to meet. Lenny, a man probably 35 years old. He looked at me wonderingly for a moment and then broke out into a series of incoherent laughs, which he repeated over and over again. The source seemed to be infectious, for a half dozen of the figures on a settee near by woke up and added their merriment to the wild volume of sound. Taking a bunch of them from his pocket, my companion held them up and shook them until the jungle attracted attention. In the next ward we encountered a patient of the maniac type whose principal desire seemed to be to discover himself of every particle of clothing, and when we saw him he had made consid-

THE STORY OF DULUTH

As it is Told in a Leading Eastern Manufacturing Journal.

The Causes of Her Growth and Development Reviewed Briefly.

The following article on Duluth appears in The Manufacturer, the official publication of the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, an association composed of the leading manufacturers of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania.

This week a train of new freight cars built at Duluth, of lumber sawed and of iron mined close to the city, and loaded with four ground here by the famous "Duluth Road," pulled out for the Atlantic seaboard over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, a vast 300 miles less in distance to Boston, New York and Philadelphia than any other route.

This is Duluth's position in a nutshell. Here is her advantage, her right to be. Perhaps no argument, however carefully made, however logical, would equal the logic or power this train of cars and the four they carried. But let us take up this argument seriatim and show its sweep.

Duluth claims superior commercial advantage. It was but a few years ago, 1855, when the only way of reaching the East by rail was via St. Paul and Chicago. In that year St. Paul was situated by the building of the Northwest, an extension of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, "Duluth's" Declaration of Independence. It has been called, given an air line route to the seaboard, putting Chicago on the side track. In this same sense the railways of the West, notably the great "Manitoba" system, with its 3000 miles of track, and the Chicago & North Western, inland navigation was its head and swung away from St. Paul and Minneapolis. Duluth's position was striking across the border into Manitoba and the far Northwest territory, the virgin wheat lands of the Atlantic and Pacific, and the great lakes of the West. THE STORY OF DULUTH

As it is Told in a Leading Eastern Manufacturing Journal.

The Causes of Her Growth and Development Reviewed Briefly.

The following article on Duluth appears in The Manufacturer, the official publication of the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, an association composed of the leading manufacturers of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania.

This week a train of new freight cars built at Duluth, of lumber sawed and of iron mined close to the city, and loaded with four ground here by the famous "Duluth Road," pulled out for the Atlantic seaboard over the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, a vast 300 miles less in distance to Boston, New York and Philadelphia than any other route.

This is Duluth's position in a nutshell. Here is her advantage, her right to be. Perhaps no argument, however carefully made, however logical, would equal the logic or power this train of cars and the four they carried. But let us take up this argument seriatim and show its sweep.

Duluth claims superior commercial advantage. It was but a few years ago, 1855, when the only way of reaching the East by rail was via St. Paul and Chicago. In that year St. Paul was situated by the building of the Northwest, an extension of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, "Duluth's" Declaration of Independence. It has been called, given an air line route to the seaboard, putting Chicago on the side track. In this same sense the railways of the West, notably the great "Manitoba" system, with its 3000 miles of track, and the Chicago & North Western, inland navigation was its head and swung away from St. Paul and Minneapolis. Cincinnati Has a Mysterious Half-Million Dollar Blaze.

A Canadian Disappearance Thought to be Caused by Murder.

A Number of Foul Deeds;
Kentucky Has More
White Caps.

CINCINNATI, March 11.—A fire from an unaccountable source burst out in the clothing house of Stern, Mayer & Co., after 1 o'clock this morning. Nobody saw it until attention was attracted by crashing glass from the windows. By the time the first engine arrived the interior of the great structure was ablaze.

A general alarm calling all engines was at once sounded and the efforts of the department were directed to confining the fire within its own walls.

The building is a five-story stone erected at a cost of $200,000. It had frontage of 125 feet on Third street and 150 feet on Nine. It was all occupied by Stern, Mayer & Co., except one room on Third street. It stands in the very midst of valuable buildings, and with more valuable goods. Across the street stands the Burnett house, and during the progress of the fire it was with the utmost difficulty that the flames were kept from entering that hostelry. Most of the guests picked up their trunks and were ready to move.
More than once the roof was smoking
and several of the windows were broken, and in some cases inside blinds were burning. But watchful men were ready and the hotel was saved. The great Enterprise building adjoining Stern, Mayer & Co.'s was on fire at one time, but by bravery and skill it also was saved.

The establishment of Stern, Mayer &
Co., was one of the largest in the city.
Its stock was estimated at $500,000. It was wholly lost. The cause of the fire is stated to be $500,000. Early the stove came began to fall like hail, but fire men with almost reckless bravery went up their ladders and carried up low Engines had to be hauled away by hand
to save them as the fire was unendur-able. On the way to the fire the direction to one engine was very seriously injured by collision with a freight car. The fire has been in existence thirty years. It is now composed of B. Stern, Louis Mayer, Jacob Scheurer, Alexander Officer and Theodore Mayer.

A MYSTERIOUS ABSENCE

Connected With the Burchell Tragedy; So Claim the Carious.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 11.—All kinds of rumors are in circulation as to the cause of the absence of Neville Pickett from his home. One is that he was connected with Burchell's misdeeds, and rather than to delve any deeper into the sink of inquiry he accused himself. Another is that business troubles are the cause, and that Burchell made away with him while he was in New York. He was of English parentage. He was married to a girl country about seven years ago to make his way in the world. He was then about 14 years old, and $200 a year
small income, enough to keep him in a modest way.

During the time Burchell lived here
he and Pickett were very intimate.
Some three years ago he got some money
together and bought a farm near Curry creek. The price was $700, of which he paid $200 cash and gave a mortgage for the balance. Subsequently he married the daughter of a clergyman.
On Feb. 10 he drove into Woodstock,
telling his wife he had some little business to transact. He reached the town from England which had a strange effect on him. He returned home and told his wife he had got into a little difficulty of financial nature, and said he would have to raise $1000 at once. This he did by mortgaging his farm and he left home
the same day. Next day he was seen at Niagara Falls.

It is alleged that on the 12th he was back in Woodstock. It will be remembered that on Feb. 14, the day of Burchell's arrival in New York, Mrs.
Burchell and to the fact that the Metropolitan hotel in Pelly's bearing:
"Did you see Pickett? I saw him on the stairs a little while ago." "No,
I did not see him, dear," replied Burchell.
"You must be mistaken, but if he is here
I suppose it is only on business." Then Burchell went out. Since then Pickett has not been seen, but on Feb. 22 a telegram purporting to have been sent by him was received by his wife from Arizona.

Acting under legal advice, Mrs. Pickett refuses to talk about her husband.
Her counsel says that the missing man's absence is due to financial difficulties only, and that he can produce him in short time if necessary compels him to do so.

MORE WHITE CAPS.

Three Kentucky Suspects are Most Fearfully Punished.

COVINGTON, Ky., March 11.—The most serious White Cap raid in Kentucky for years occurred Sunday night on what is known as the Butts Milk road, eight miles from this city. At that point is quite a collection of houses occupied by poor, and not too honest people. The neighborhood is filled with well-to-do farmers, who have lately suffered seriously at the hands of petty thieves.

Recently some amateur detective work fixed the blame for a good deal of the loss of poultry and other chattels on three Crane brothers, who reside with their parents. They were several times warned to leave the vicinity, but gave no heed.

Sunday night about twenty-five men,
carefully disguised, rode up to the Crane dwelling. The three men were secured and taken to the woods. The half million dollar was hidden in the barn, and a guard remaining with the old folks
to see that they did not give an alarm.
In the woods the alleged cul-pits were stripped of the waist, tied with their faces to a tree and then given thirty lashes on the bare back with a black-whip which brought blood at every blow. The men screamed in agony, but the whipping went on and one of them, John, the eldest, fainted under the pain. At the conclusion of the punishment the backs of the victims

VARIOUS TOWN ELECTIONS

West Duluth is the Scene of the Hottest Kind of Warfare.

Elections and How they Progress Elsewhere in the County.

The last act in the bitter political contest that has been waged here during the past few weeks is now in progress.
Hundreds of men are crowded around the polls and a continual stream of ballots is being put into the box. It is estimated that at least 600 votes will be cast. All business is virtually closed, and all interest is centered in the outcome. There is no unreasonable excitement, however, and matters are being discussed pro and con by the different opposing factions in a good natured way.
The presence here of several deputy sheriffs was entirely unnecessary for and contrary to the wishes of the village authorities.

There are two men in favor of the Gunniss ticket, although neither party is doing any loud boasting as to what the probable outcome will be. Every man in the town that was available is engaged in the service of the several teams with which the campaign has been carried on it is expected that there will be but little scratching done.

The car works are closed today to enable all of the employees to vote.
The rebuilding of the rolling mill at the car works will be commenced tomorrow.

The mass meeting at the city hall last night was largely attended by both active supporters of the Gunniss ticket and the hall was crowded. The Scandinavian union held a meeting at John sons hall in the interests of the Thomas ticket.

Mr. C. P. Magnuson was a resident at West Duluth yesterday.
James Smith and W. J. Fletcher, Minneapolis, are registered at the Phillips.
George Thompson will move his family from Duluth tomorrow. They will occupy one of the Whitman cottages.

At a family reunion of the Kreidle house yesterday, and has changed its name to the St. Charles.

TOWN ELECTIONS

Held all over the County, Probable Results in Some of Them.

The Park Point people, or at least a part of them seem to regard themselves as an independent community, and separate from Duluth. A village election is therefore being held there today, the following are the only ticket
present, Mr. J. Gullberg, recorder;
John Meers; trustees, E. Fal-
zer, Alex. Shaw, A. J. Feltz,
B. J. Feltz, John T. Russell.

Justice two years, Walter Murray; con-
table two years, Donald Irving; con-table one year, Fred Hoffman. There being no opposition the above ticket will probably be elected, though the vote will be very close. As the is a considerable number of the residents of the point who are under the impression that Park Point is a part of Duluth.

Lakeville's first election is progressing very smoothly with only one ticket in the field, the following are the ticket
present, Mr. J. Gullberg, recorder;
John Meers; trustees, E. Fal-
zer, Alex. Shaw, A. J. Feltz,
B. J. Feltz, John T. Russell.

At Hermantown the only ticket in the field today is as follows: Supervisors—
Gottlieb, Salzman chairman, Peter Fischer, August Janzig; clerk, G. Fritz;
treasurer, Fred Krause; assessor, Otto

A Murder is Out.

New York, March 11.—The police have found a clue to the identity of the woman whose dead body was found yesterday in a cellar in Bridge street schoolhouse. The clue was furnished by young Ernest Shapiro, who attended school at the house where the body was found. He had lived for some time with Janac Jacobs, who on Feb. 18 had killed Herman Rogozinski and attempted to kill the latter's wife and shot himself. Shapiro recognized a coat around the woman's head as one that belonged to Jacobs. He also recognized a piece of ticking as having formed part of Jacobs' bed. The police believe that the murdered woman was one of the murderer's wives, as he is now known to have had several.

HE LEAVES HIS WIFE,

But Takes the Books; E. H.
Prince Goes to Parts Unknown.

Claimed to be Not Only a De-faulter but a Forger
as Well.

E. H. Prince, who has for some time been running the Tribune job printing office, absented himself from the city last Friday "for a business trip to Superior" as he told his wife. Since his departure matters have come to light which place him not only in the light of an absentee, but a defaulter, and also of a forger.

More than a year ago Prince leased
with J. J. LeTurner the News Job printing plant, which continued to be run ostensibly as a portion of the News outfit and a short time later
he acquired control of the Tribune job printing office. He continued in business and everything appeared to be running smoothly. A few days ago he sold two lots, managing to get his wife's consent to the transaction. He also got possession of the account books of the Tribune job office, which he has taken with him, also the money realized from the sale of the lots. He had a small account in Bell & Snyder's bank, which he kept checked
very closely, and as a consequence was never allowed to overdraw. Since his departure, however, his checks for small amounts have come in to the bank amounting in all to about $20.
Then he got caught by various parties,
most notably saloonkeepers, and as fast as they came in were promptly rejected by the bank. One check for $15 he had drawn signing and endorsing the name of E. E.
Parsons, in what is easily recognized as Prince's handwriting.

Prince has left his wife and is also considerably indebted to merchants and others, especially saloon keepers, in the city. The full extent of his pecuniary troubles is not known, especially as he carried of the Tribune job books. Mrs. Prince is left nearly destitute.

The Lake Avenue schoolkeeper, Wm.
F. Lawrence, arrested for selling liquor on Sunday, came into court this morning, entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was fined $30 and costs, amounting to $32.95, which he paid. The court was certified to the council by Municipal Clerk Holden as by law required. If the law in this case is carried out the council will be compelled to revoke Lawrence's license, and he will be allowed to take out another license
for a year.

In Place of Johnson.

dent today sent the following following nomination: Theophilus Smith of St. Paul, supervisor of third census district of Minnesota, vice William H. H.
Johnson, declined.

The Archbishop's Object.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 11.—The Bennett school law agitation in this state has taken a sensational turn.
Archbishop Healy of this city, Bishop Fisch of LaCrosse and Bishop Katzer of Green Bay, three Catholic prelates of Wisconsin, have prepared and signed a lengthy statement to Catholics of the state denouncing the Bennett law, earnestly protesting against its enforcement and boldly demanding its repeal.
The document has been furnished to Catholic organs of the state, and will be made public in a few days. The prelates declare that the law is in variance with American principles, that it is antagonistic to the Catholic church and Catholic people, and that it should never have been adopted. Voters of Wisconsin are called upon to oppose the law in every manipulation possible at the polls.

After the Tribune.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 11.—Freeman P.
Lane, an attorney for the American Building & Loan association, filed notices for retraction on two points with the Tribune today. If retraction is not made suit will be brought. The amount asked for in one case will be at least $100,000, and in the other $25,000. It is understood that other notices to retract will follow. The Tribune today has taken a sensational turn.

MRS. KNIGHT AGAIN.

Says the Actor's Relatives are Wealthy;
Their Disposition of Him.

New York, March 11.—Theatrical circles have had plenty to talk about during the past three days as the outcome of the sensational letter received by a local actress from Mrs. George S.
Knight who is now playing in Texas. In this communication she claims that the recent benefit given in this city was against her wishes, and adds that his father John Sloan is worth $100,000,
his mother $200,000 more, and that both reside in elegant homes of their own in the Quaker City. She also charges that the incident at Norristown, Pa., although a plot exists for placing the once eminent comedian in the state hospital for she (Mrs. Knight) had offered to place him in a private retreat and sanitarium in Delaware county that state, and to pay all of his expenses. She passionately objects to Mr. Knight being placed in the state hospital as a charity patient and appeals to her friends to prevent this being done.

THE PAN-AMERICAN

Conference Still Laboring on Questions of International Importance.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—At a meeting of the Pan-American conference yesterday a report was received from the committee appointed to consider the best means of extending and improving the facilities for commercial postal telegraph communication between the several countries that border upon the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean sea. The committee says the telegraphic service meets all requirements and is to be considered satisfactory. The cable communication is by two lines from the United States to the republics of the South.

The committee says that plans have been discussed by capitalists in this country for the establishment of a direct mail steamship service between Tampa, Fla., and Mexico, and ports of Colon, Port Limon, (Costa Rica) and Greytown, Nicaragua. Such a line would shorten the time of transporting mails from New York or Chicago to Colon to about one half day.

The committee in conclusion recommends to all nations bordering on the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean sea, the granting of aid in the establishment of a first-class steamship service between the several ports upon such terms as they may mutually agree upon.

THE LABOR CONFERENCE.

BERLIN, March 11.—Correspondence between Germany and Great Britain relative to the scope of the international labor conference has been made public. In his letters on the subject Lord Salisbury declined to favor any scheme looking to the legal restriction of labor.

On March 11.—The cabinet has decided to send Senators Jules Simon and Tolain, M. Burdeau, a member of the chamber of deputies, M. Laidet, inspector of mines, and M. Delhay, mechanic, representatives of France to the international labor conference to Berlin.

TO ENLARGE BUSINESS.

The Lake Superior Ironstone Company Puts in Steam Quarry Machinery.

The Herald is glad to note that our local ironstone quarry companies are showing the enterprise and push that has heretofore marked only those further down the lake. It has appeared strange that with Duluth, by far the largest stone market anywhere on or near Lake Superior, the quarrymen near here have with a single exception, continued in the old, slow and expensive method of hand work, while those further down the lake, most of whose product was shipped to and through this city, have put in large and costly steam plants.

Mention has already been made of the steam appliance to be put in by one Duluth quarry company, and now the Lake Superior Ironstone company, composed of Messrs. Collins & Warner, F. H. Doherty, A. L. Langlois and others, has purchased machinery. The company has bought the 30-horse power and boiler doing duty at the Clyde iron works, which is to be replaced by one twice the size, and will move it to the new quarry near Cranberry river.

A steam channeler, steam drills and steam derrick have also been bought and will be put in position as soon as possible. The company has had a force of men at work all winter stripping and opening the quarry and has uncovered a splendid bed of excellent rock lying close to the surface, and is now working most conveniently. Contracts have been made with E. S. Smith, owner of the stone from the quarry to the company's dock here, and a large amount of work will be carried on all summer.

It now looks as if the stone trade of Duluth would show a greater push and increase this year than ever before and would bring the local quarry to the prominence the quantity and quality of their stone and their nearness to market warrants.

WEST END.

A Boot and Shoe Factory Talked of; General Notes.

A boot and shoe factory is one of the things talked of in the West End. Several gentlemen have already expressed their willingness to give a bonus to such an industry. The matter will be brought up before the Chamber of Commerce at the next meeting, and someone will probably be appointed to look it up. D. S. McKay is heading the movement to have one located and everyone who has seen so far have expressed their willingness to aid him.

Tonight the second of the series of three races at Twentieth Avenue rink takes place between Capt. S. G. Johnson and Gust Johnson. It gives promise of being full as interesting and exciting as the last.

W. W. Featherstone of Anoka, Minn., is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Helm. W. M. Johnson, who died Sunday of acute pneumonia was buried yesterday afternoon.

Miss Maroon of Brainerd, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. L. Tetu on Eighth street. She will open a dress making shop shortly.

Policeman Pat Maguire went on duty again last night, having fully recovered from his recent illness.

Mrs. H. Stevens and her sister Miss Spencer will be for Sioux City in a few days.

O. Engstrom has gone to Fergus Falls called there by the death of his sister.

The ladies of the Second Presbyterian church will hold a social at the home of D. M. May Friday evening.

Northern Light Lodge, I. O. G. T. will hold its regular weekly meeting this evening in the Old Knights of Labor hall.

A Little Fire.

Fire this morning at 4:20 partially destroyed the small two-story building No. 224 West Second street, owned by Dr. Wallbank. It was occupied by Sletten's laundry and Mr. Walsh's hat-shaping emporium. The fire was caused by a fire alarm ring at 4:20 exactly and four minutes later the department was at the scene. The fire caught in Sletten's dry room and the loss more than covered by $50 insurance, placed with W. C. Sherwood's company. A false alarm was turned in from box 45 last evening at 7:30.

To Call Time on The Herald's "Guests." The United States census enumeration begins on the 1st day of June and is to be completed in cities in fifteen days. The enumerators are required to sign an oath that they will perform their duties faithfully, and for any violation of this oath or false return will be subjected to a fine of $300 and three years imprisonment. The law also imposes a penalty on every household who refuses to give accurate and complete answers to questions asked.

Among the negroes of many Southern cities, "punching" or venturing in all kinds of lottery enterprises is a favorite amusement, and they seem to think there is something cabalistic in the numbers 1-1-4-4. The playing of lotteries is generally a losing game, and to all who want to invest in a sure thing, where every ticket draws a prize, commend the figures at the head of this paragraph. The figures 432 are the miles from St. Paul to Chicago over "York Roads" who find in Irish roles the best display of their talents. "Shamus O'Brien" will be played this evening by an excellent company.

Evans & Hoyt, the inimitable comedians in Hoyt's "Parlor Match," begin an engagement here Friday evening. No better company of mirth-makers is on the road, and the musical farce-comedy will be greeted by large audiences.

STATE NOTES. Some months since the county commissioners at Albert Lea initiated, misunderstanding with Barnard & Co., book manufacturers of St. Louis, in regard to a bill, and as a result passed resolutions stigmatizing the firm as unworthy of confidence. The latter retaliated by bringing suit against the commissioners for libel. The matter has been compromised by the defendants agreeing to pay the costs and $600, or $120 each.

John P. Richmond, president of the Richmond Milling company of Argyle, Minn., now lies very low from a protracted attack of influenza.

The Y's social at the Christian church last night was a most enjoyable affair. A brief business meeting was held, after which the social part of the program.

The feature of the evening was the civil service examination conducted, in the absence of Professor Randolph, by Mr. H. G. Cable, who acted as interlocutor. The successful candidate for the post-office was Mrs. O'Hanley (Mrs. R. L. Seville), whose definition of the post-office was that the word office was synonymous with American; that post-office was where mail was carried, and there were twelve or fifteen answers which were equally witty and pointed.

"The Battles and Leaders of the Civil War" was the subject of appropriate finishing at The Herald bistro.

THE CHAMBER.

Little Public House is carried on at today's session.

The public meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this morning was very short, the time being mostly taken up in executive session. A communication from Hon. H. Duane, then the chamber for endorsing New Orleans as the proper location of the new navy yard. Congressmen S. L. and J. A. B. were present, and the chamber to the same effect, also stating that it expected to soon place its hall relating to an increase of appropriation for the Duluth public building before the house.

J. G. Woodside called attention of the chamber to the pernicious practice of making the harbor the dumping ground for old and refuse. A lengthy discussion was had on this subject, and a motion carried to have the harbor committee look into the matter and make its special business to report at next session. The chamber then went into executive session.

Professor Phelps put in his resignation, morning the board of his acceptance of a position at St. Paul. Resolutions of regret at the secretary's departure were passed, and he was given the authority of the office until April 1, when he will leave.

There is a big scramble after this spring. At least a dozen applications are in already, and the chamber is not yet come up for executive consideration, nor will it before April 1. Several out of town men are looking for the place.

THE DULUTH BUILDING.

CONGRESSMAN CONSTOCK MAY GET $200,000
ADDITION FOR THE STRUCTURE.
MINNEAPOLIS, March 12.—The Journal's Washington special says: Representative Constock was before the house committee on public grounds and buildings today in behalf of his bill increasing the appropriation for the Duluth public building.
The bill calls for $350,000 increase. Mr. Constock thinks $200,000 may be given. He may find it difficult to secure an larger amount than that in view of the fact that the Duluth postal receipts fall below the limit fixed for $300,000 public buildings, although Duluth has very large and varied government interests that demand a building.

A RAISED BILL.

A Piece of Artistic Workmanship Received at a Helena Bank.
HELENA, Mont., March 12.—Something unique in the way of skilled criminality may be seen at the Merchants National bank, this city, in a $5 bill which has been raised to a $20 bill. It was sent in by Nick Baatz, a Marysville brewer, this morning, and except at a bank would really escape detection.

The note is an issue of the year 1871 from the Kellogg bank of Green Bay, Michigan, and now calls for $20. The word "live" in large letters at each side on the face of the note has been carefully scratched out and the number "20" marked in its place. Whether this marking has been done with a stamp or by their hands and overwriting the country on each side for miles. Heavy rains have fallen and continue to fall into these streams and a general inundation is looked for. The Black is a tributary of the White and the White empties in the Arkansas, just above the point where the latter pours its flood into the Mississippi.

At Fort Smith, on the Arkansas, a rise of over eighteen feet took place from various points along the Mississippi river and other points this noon is that the White and Black rivers in Arkansas are on the rampage. Both are out of their banks and overflowing the country on each side for miles. Heavy rains have fallen and continue to fall into these streams and a general inundation is looked for. The Black is a tributary of the White and the White empties in the Arkansas, just above the point where the latter pours its flood into the Mississippi.

At Arkansas City, on the Mississippi, water from Sappington Hook crassess has inundated the rear part of the town and floods in the back country are being flooded. It is not thought that any great damage will result from this break, as the layous and interior streams are capable of carrying the water away rapidly. All available boats of the government fleet have been put in service, and are rendering aid. The river front from Arkansas City down is being carefully watched, and all the places are being filled up with sacks of sand, earth and other means used to hold back waters are used. A report prevails that the levee at Assiniboia, twenty miles south of Lake Providence, has broken.

The magnificent display of costly goods behind the plate glass of their show window. While Mr. Dominick was leaning on a customer he heard a terrific crash and turned his eyes in time to see a tray of valuable diamond rings disappear. The tray contained forty-two diamond rings valued at about $6000. The sheriff and other officials, who retained blood-hounds, are on his trail.

Annual Church Convention.

RAILROAD NOTES.
As a result of the war between the Burlington and Union Pacific roads to South-western points passenger rates from Duluth to Denver have been cut $8.
Duluth should make a great effort this year to secure rates to and from this city on the same basis as those given St. Paul and Minneapolis. The railroads have already too long tried to force travel via the twin cities. A gentleman the other day having occasion to go to St. Cloud via the St. Paul & Duluth road secured accommodations for $6.75. Upon returning he came direct over the Northern Pacific road. He paid $6.75 for a ticket, was obliged to take a sleeper to Staples at a cost of $1.50, at Staples changing cars and being charged $2 for a sleeper to this city.

Trying to Secure Rates.
The railroad committee of the Minnesota Hotel Keepers association and the passenger agents of Minnesota's roads held a meeting at St. Paul yesterday, conferring regarding lower sum rates to Minnesota points. Hotel men are trying to secure the same rates from outside points to resorts in Minnesota which obtain during winter from Minnesota to Southern winter resorts. Another meeting will be held in a few days.

MR. STANLEY'S PROGRAM

He Will Not Arrive in London Until May or June Next.

Zealous Tacoma Officials Stir up the British Consul.

LONDON, March 12.—Henry M. Stanley will not leave Cairo till the beginning of April, partly because he dreads the sudden change of climate and partly because he has made up his mind to finish his book before he becomes entangled in the dissipation of the London season. The book is so far advanced that the publishers hope it may be ready for publication on the day of Mr. Stanley's arrival in England.

He will not come direct to London. He will spend a fortnight at Nice, then proceed to Brussels to pay his respect to the King of the Belgians. At Brussels he will be met by his four officers—Parker, Nelson, Stain and Jackson—of whom have become devotedly attached to their chief and are ready to follow him whenever he calls upon them in any fresh enterprise.

Dr. Parker's colleagues admit that had it been for the doctor not one member of the expedition would have come alive. Mr. Stanley's first public appearance in London will be at the Albert hall, under the auspices of the Royal Geographical society. While a special meeting will be struck for Stanley, the royal medal of the society will be awarded to Emin Pasha.

A ZEALOUS JUSTICE.

Justice Patrick and His Constable Start an International Complication.
TACOMA, Wash., March 12.—Complications are likely to grow out of an incident taking place here, involving an American and the constable of the town. The constable, John J. CLEVELAND, O., March 12.—"Buck" Murray, who shot and killed a Detroit police officer last week Tuesday, having been arrested by the officers while engaged in drilling a safe in a wholesale grocery store, was arrested early this morning. He made his escape and was followed by Detective McDonnell and Patrolman McHugh. They walked, rode on freight trains to farmers' wagons, tracing him finally to Cleveland. Murray arrived here Tuesday morning. Last night he had no time to get to a cheap hotel on the west side where he was captured at 1:45 o'clock this morning.

King Dahomey Didn't Bore.
PARIS, March 12.—It is officially announced that King Dahomey, accompanied by his female warriors, has retired to Lanna, after remaining at Godomey five days, not daring to attack French posts. The rest of his army remains at Godomey, where it is erecting fortifications. During the campaign 1000 Dahomians, including a female general, were killed. THE GREAT HUDSON'S BAY.
A Land That is Virtually a Sportsman's Paradise.
A Canadian surveyor who was engaged in an official expedition to Hudson's Bay in 1880 and 1889 says few people have any idea of the resources of this great sea. It shores are the haunts of the musk ox, the moose, the reindeer, the caribou, the white bear and his black brother, the otter, the beaver, the mink, the black fox, also the silver, gray and white varieties, and other valuable fur-bearing animals.

Its waters are teeming with the most valuable varieties of water mammals and fish. He has seen the bay as far as the eye could reach appear one undulating mass of water porpoises. Both the hides and oil of these are very valuable. In some parts of the bay and in the straits the shores of the island are swarming with walrus. It has been reported by Professor Bell that on one island on the east coast there was found to be thirty streets with the ivory tusks of the walrus. The tusks are valuable, though the chief value of the walrus lies in his blubber, which weighs from 100 and 200 pounds, and is worth from ten to twenty cents per pound.

Election Over But News is Quiet; Hazlewood Church Program.

General Minor Notes of Interest to the People up There.

Election is over and matters are quiet for a change. It was one of the hardest fought battles ever made in the county, and the result was as predicted last night. It will be a day or two before the town gets down to business again. The following was the result, the entire night that while passing the corner of Gunnis ticket, with one exception, being elected: For president, John T. Gunnis, 410 votes; L. S. Thomas, 353; recorder, A. C. Gibson, 408; M. S. McMinn, 358; treasurer, H. W. Wheeler, 402; A. F. Swanson, 385; trustees, N. H. Xyhauss, 337; W. W. Scott, 433; Frank Tins, 307; O. S. Olson, 389; E. H. Hall, 345; P. H. Haley, 313; constables, John Iansson, 421; Wm. Thompson, 316.

Considerable ticket scratching was done on both sides, as was especially noticeable in the case of McMinn, who went far behind his ticket. Ed Elston of Duluth has opened in the real estate business in the office of Campbell & McKay, on Central avenue. G. T. Govett, who for some time has held the position of night foreman at the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway, having been appointed night foreman.

The property known as the "bank block," owned by the West Duluth Land company, was sold yesterday to Eastern parties for $20,000. The building cost the company about $14,000. The lot having fifty feet front. It was purchased as an investment. The company will put the proceeds of the sale into building investments.

MUCH GRAIN COMING.

Receipts for the Crop Year to Date Show Very Large Gains.

The Police Force as it is Now Arranged and Located.

Future Alterations and Changes in Details.

The chief inspector of grain furnishes the Herald with a table showing the receipts of all grain to date in the crop year. These figures show a very satisfactory total, especially when compared with those of the former year, when but little over 3,000,000 bushels had been received on the crop to the same date. It is especially noticeable that 2,000,000 bushels of the total receipts are coarse grains, and this is an especially valuable feature of the report.

It is stated to the Herald today that another half million bushels of corn is contracted to come here at once, and as there are now over 10,000 bushels yet to come on the last contract, this will increase certain crop receipts to about 1,750,000 bushels. It is expected that this total will be further increased by a half million more. Oats will probably be also increased somewhat.

But obtainable figures would indicate that there are about 2,500,000 bushels yet to come forward on the crop, making total wheat receipts about 18,000,000 bu. So Duluth's grain receipts on the crop of 1889-90 will be not less than 21,000,000 bu. and perhaps more.

The following is the statement as furnished by the inspector:

THE GUESS CONTEST.

All Readers May Compete, and as often as they want.

How many inhabitants has Duluth?

That is a question for the readers of The Herald to answer.

The Herald proposes to make it an object for its readers to guess as to the number of people in the city and the three adjoining suburbs mentioned above.

In brief, The Herald will offer prizes to the two persons guessing the number or nearest the number of inhabitants shown by the returns of the census enumerators. The Herald will give to such successful guessers two cash prizes.

First Prize $50 in Gold, Second Prize $25 in Gold.

Guesses will be received at this office until the day when the enumerators of the census begin their work.

Population Contest Coupon.

My guess as to the number of inhabitants in Duluth, West Duluth, Lakeland and Lester Park to be shown by the census enumerators in the summer of 1890 is as follows:

Whole number of inhabitants—

Name of guesser—

Residence of guesser—

Date, March 12, 1890.

Cut out this coupon, make your guess upon it and send it to The Herald, 100 Exchange Building, Duluth, Minn.

May Serve as a Guide.

In order to give data that is of interest and may be of value, The Herald reprints the following from the directory of Duluth, Minn., for 1889.

It must be remembered that this paper does not contain the names of all the residents of Duluth, Minn., for 1889.
